Naas was defending his Gallatin county championship as he also took top honors in 1955. There were eight contestants for the 1956 championship. Left to right, Roy Caudill of Shawneetown, third place winner; Alfred Rister of Omaha, chairman of the Gallatin County Conservation district, congratulating the winner, Greg Naas, and Gene Wathen, Ridgway, winner of second place. Others in the contest were Lee Mills, Hubert Vickery, Conrad Howard, Millard Curry and Robert Walters. Prize money, paid in silver, was $10, $7.50 and $5. Judges were Clifford Homann, Division of Soil Conservation, Springfield; W. P. Brann, Burton Shann and John Heaton, high school agriculture instructors at Shawneetown, Equality and Ridgway respectively. (Daily Register Staff Photo)

County Board Commends State's Attorney to Probe Clerk's Office

Resolution Applies Same Rule to Members of Board

The Saline County Board of Supervisors, in regular session yesterday, passed a resolution commending the state's attorney for his announcement that he is

Dispute Involves Amount County Clerk Can Get

The situation regarding the office of County Clerk Don B. Garrison is quite involved, but generally is this:

State law provides separate salaries for county clerk and clerk of the probate court, held by the same officer (called county clerk in Saline county), but provides the salary shall be set by the county board.

The law specifies that in counties the size of Saline, the pay for the office holder shall be not less than $5,500 and $7,500. A few years back the minimum was $5,000.

The audit shows that during the years starting with 1952 and up to this year, the clerk has drawn various amounts in pay well over the $5,500 appropriated and that on one occasion the amount went more than $200 over the $7,500 maximum.

No record has been produced which shows that a resolution was passed setting the amount. Therefore some contend that without a resolution the minimum is therefore applicable and others that without it the maximum should apply.

The Saline County Board of Supervisors majority contends that the annual appropriation ordinance, which now appropriates $5,500 for the salary and which formerly appropriated $5,000, up until about three years ago, sets the salary, and the attorney general of Illinois has given an opinion supporting this contention.

However, Mr. Garrison and his attorney have contended that, since annual audits of his office have been approved by the county board and since the amount he drew was listed in these audits, that the board of supervisors has, technically, approved the amount he has drawn.

investigating the conduct of the county clerk's office with intentions to present evidence to a special grand jury.

The resolution, passed without opposition, also declared:

"We are not unmindful of rumor and threats allegedly made to certain members of this board including one made by an elected official of the county, to the effect that if the investigation of the county clerk's office is continued there will be an investigation of the conduct and official acts of certain members of this board, which will be followed up with suits and prosecutions."

Same Rule to Board Members

"On this point," the resolution continued, "we wish to state that we apply the same rule to the members of this board as we apply to the county clerk: If any member of this board has wrongfully and illegally obtained funds from this county, the state's attorney knows his duty and should do it."

The resolution at its outset declared that the board, in a letter dated Aug. 10, received a letter from State's Attorney Robert V. Wilson advising that he had received an opinion from the attorney general to the effect that an appropriation ordinance was sufficient to set the salary of a county official. The letter requested authority from the board to commence legal proceedings as requested in his letter to the board some time ago. The legal proceedings would be a civil action to recover any excesses that County Clerk Don B. Garrison has been reported as receiving in an audit of his books. The audit showed about $9,700 in excesses above the amount specified in the appropriation ordinances over a period from 1952.

County Receives $2,000 Check for Harco Road Damage

Saline county yesterday got a check for $2,000 and took the county load limit off the Harco road. The load limit now is the same as on state highways.

At the June meeting a load limit of five tons per axle was put on vehicles using the road and in July the board set fines for violations. Principal heavy trucks were the big transports going into the oil field and hauling out oil and when enforcement of the ordinance was started, oil production men and haulers protested.

At a special meeting of the board July 30, it was agreed, following debate, that the oil people would collect 80 per cent of an estimated $2,500 damage to the road and the county load limit would be taken off.

The check was deposited yesterday morning and the Saline County Board of Supervisors, meeting yesterday, voted to rescind the ordinance setting up the county load limit.

Permission was given to Howard Brockman, representing the Calvert Drilling Co., Inc., of Olney, to run a pipeline from Calvert wells to a salt water disposal. The salt water will be piped along the Harco road right-of-way about three-fourths of a mile to a well drilled for its disposal.

The board yesterday approved the contract of J. D. Barter for construction of a motor fuel tax section in Stonefort township in the amount of $6,570.12.

It granted assistance to the following listed townships for joint bridge construction as provided by law: Carrier Mills $1,247, Galatia $567, Mountain $337.50 and $481, Stonefort $617, Tate $419.

Also approved was the relocation of federal aid secondary highway No. 900 in Carrier Mills and Independence townships.

The board approved a motion to request a 30-day extension of the Saline County Board of Review after Tom Maxwell told the members that the board would not be able to get the Harrisburg township assessor's books for a week or more and that the extension was needed.

Mrs. L. W. Riley Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Helen L. Riley, 41, widow of L. W. Riley, 119 South Jackson street, was found dead in bed this morning, apparently dying in her sleep.

The death of Mrs. Riley was discovered by her young son, James, 17.

Auto Flips Over After Striking Bicycle on Rt. 13

Mrs. T. C. Pritchard of Atlanta, Ga., and her young son, Daniel, escaped uninjured late yesterday when their auto flipped over on its top and an Equality youth, Leon O'Neal, suffered abrasions when the car and O'Neal's bicycle figured in a collision on Route 13 at Equality.

Mrs. Pritchard, who was driving toward Shawneetown about 5 p. m., said she saw the boy on the bike ahead of her on the left side of the pavement, going the same direction as she. When she sounded the horn, she said, the boy pulled over into the right lane.

She applied brakes and swerved, but the bicycle was struck. The car went onto the road shoulder and overturned.

The boy walked on to his home.

Hodge Assets Totalling More Than $1,200,000 Offered the State

CHICAGO (AP) — Assets totaling more than $1,200,000 have been offered to the state of Illinois by ousted State Auditor Orville E. Hodge and his wife in restitution for his mammoth raids on the state treasury.

Atty. Gen. Latham Castle revealed Thursday assets of $664,434 were turned over to the state last Monday by attorneys for Hodge, now resting in St. John's hospital at Springfield until sentencing Monday for embezzling $647,000 of the state's money.

Castle released a list of assets, which contained checks amounting to $18,706 and $32,577, a Cessna airplane said to be worth $50,000 and notes, stocks, bonds and certificates. The assets also included a farm in the name of Hodge's wife, Margaret, said to be worth $57,000.

The deposed auditor already has repaid the state $538,000 in cash. Hodge returned to the hospital, where he was under 24-hour guard, Wednesday night after receiving a 20-year sentence on federal charges

Report Kennedy Gains Favor of Illinois Group

CHICAGO (AP) — The Illinois delegation to the Democratic National Convention went into caucus at the Stock Yards Inn adjacent to the convention hall today amid reports the candidacy of Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts was gaining in favor as a vice presidential candidate among the Illinoisans.

The caucus, called while nominating speeches were in progress, represented a change in plans. Earlier, leaders had said it would occur on the floor after balloting in the hot vice presidential nominating race had begun.

The reports of Kennedy's growing strength came after earlier sentiment had shown strength for Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee. However, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota still was regarded as an acceptable compromise choice.

A last-minute proposal was that the name of Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago, a leader of his delegation, be put into nomination, as a token of appreciation to him.

Leaders, who declined to be quoted by name, said the vote would await a caucus on the floor. But they said that as the session began, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts appeared to be the choices, with Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota a possible compromise choice.

The actual "nose-count" will not begin among the Illinois delegation until after the voting begins on the floor.

Dr. Fred Goetzman, 54, Shawneetown Dentist, Dies

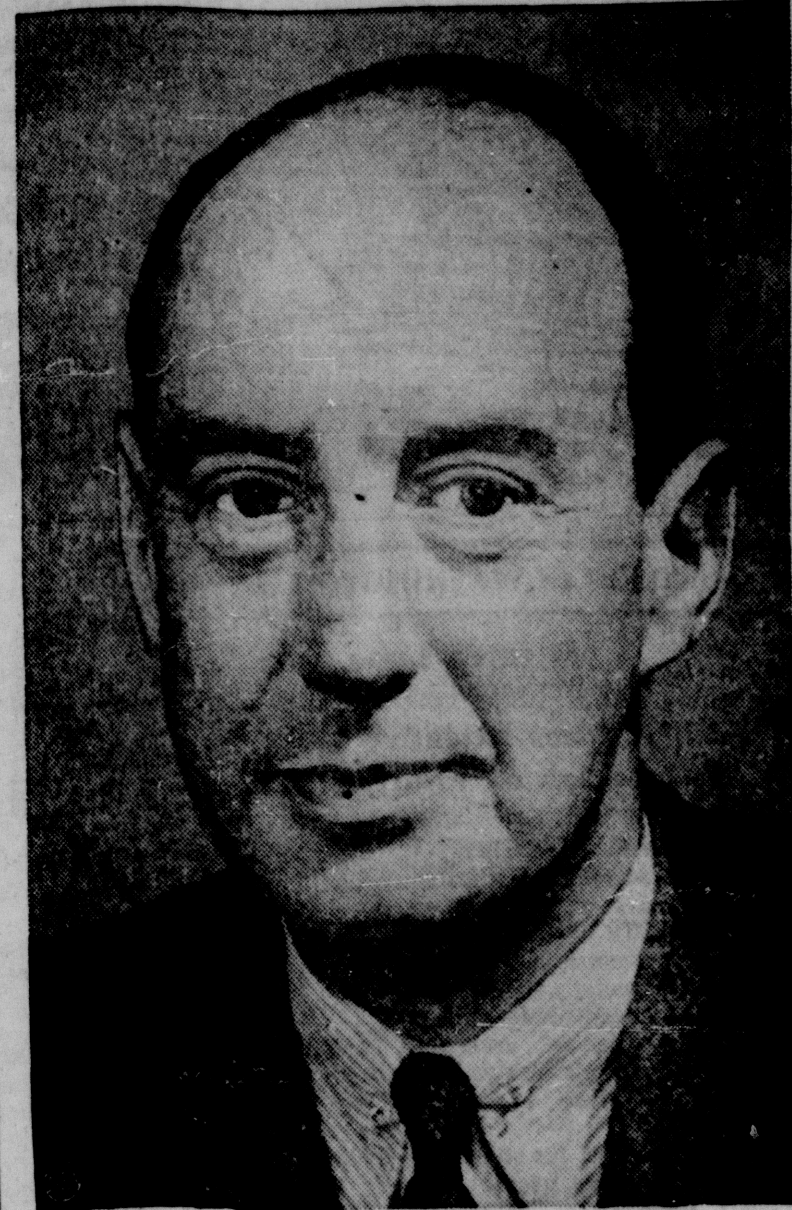

Dr. Fred Goetzman, 54, practicing dentist in Shawneetown, died suddenly of a heart attack today at 2 a. m.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joe Goetzman and his father was one of the three Goetzman brothers who were early settlers in the Old Shawneetown area.

He leaves his wife, Mary; two brothers, Louis of East St. Louis, and Carroll of Shawneetown; and four sisters, Miss Josephine Goetzman, Shawneetown, Mrs. Elizabeth Fowler, Shawneetown, Mrs. Marie Galt, Shawneetown, Mrs. Dorris Bleitz of Carbondale.

The body lies in state at the Wright funeral home in Shawneetown.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 9:30 a. m. at St. Mary's Church in Old Shawneetown. Rev. John O'Keefe will officiate and burial will be in the Immaculate Conception cemetery.

THE WINNER. Adlai E. Stevenson, nominated on the first ballot for president by the Democratic National convention.

Stevenson Pays Courtesy Call On Truman; Works on Speech

CHICAGO (AP) — Adlai Stevenson paid a courtesy call today on former President Harry Truman, who tried to block Stevenson's nomination for president.

Stevenson got only 4 1/2 hours of sleep after a victory party celebrating his nomination Thursday night. He breakfasted with fund-raisers and then went to visit Mr. Truman.

Stevenson took an elevator up two floors in his hotel to the Truman suite. He told reporters that Mr. Truman called and offered to visit him, but he told the former President he would come up himself.

Stevenson was accompanied by an aide, William McCormick Blair Jr. They spent only about three minutes in the Truman suite.

"I have paid my respects and now I am going back to my office and work on my speech," Stevenson said.

When a newsman asked what speech, Stevenson said it was his acceptance speech, to be delivered tonight.

"I've got to accept the nomination—in case there's any question about it," he said.

Stevenson then went to his La Salle Street law offices. Photographers asked as he entered the door whether he would be closeted all day, as he was Thursday.

"I'm really going to lock up here," Stevenson said. "Goodbye." Stevenson had remarked in the elevator that he didn't get to bed until 4:30 a. m. CDT. He arose at 9 a. m.

"I don't feel as brisk as I have sometimes," Stevenson said.

Shortly after he arrived at his law office, Stevenson received congratulations by long distance telephone from Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt who campaigned for convention votes for him.

The nominee played host until early today to Democratic bigwigs at a party which featured Scotch, champagne and politics.

The party packed Stevenson's Sherman-Blackstone hotel suite from just before midnight until 3:30 this morning when he passed the word that he wanted to retire.

The suite began filling with Democratic notables shortly after Stevenson returned from the convention hall where he won the presidential nomination on one ballot. They came not only to congratulate him but to confer on his precedent-shattering move in throwing the vice presidential nomination open to a convention fight.

Two of the party's most powerful figures — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn — emerged from the suite at 2 a. m. They had spent an hour with Stevenson at Stevenson's invitation.

Rayburn, chairman of the Democratic convention, was asked for his views on Stevenson's call for

Truman, Uninvited to Rostrum, Swallows His Disappointment

By MERRIMAN SMITH

United Press Staff Correspondent
CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman wiped his glasses and said to his wife, "Come on, Bess, let's go home."

Adlai E. Stevenson, the man Mr. Truman didn't favor, had just been nominated by the Democratic National Convention as the party's presidential nominee.

Mr. Truman sat in his box and tried to look happy through it all. It wasn't easy. The convention roundly ignored his warning that Stevenson "can't win" in the November election and nominated Stevenson on the first ballot.

But the former President swallowed his disappointment. When it was announced that Stevenson would appear before the convention, he told people near him that he would go to the speaker's platform and "hug Adlai."

Mr. Truman had expected that, as the party's "elder statesman," he would be invited to the rostrum while Stevenson was there. But the invitation never came.

"Let's go home," the former President said to Mrs. Truman. As he elbowed his way out of the convention hall, Mr. Truman squinted through his thick glasses

Adlai Throws Race for Second Spot Wide Open

First Scrap for Vice President In Modern History

CHICAGO (AP) — Democrats jumped into a battle royal today over choice of a running mate for Adlai E. Stevenson.

In the first wide-open vice presidential scrap in modern political convention history, four senators and a big city mayor were slug-ging it out for delegates and a host of others were toying with the idea of getting into the brawl.

It was all Stevenson's doing. Less than an hour after the convention gave him an overwhelming nomination Thursday night he threw the No. 2 race open by refusing to state a choice.

As a result nobody could be sure the 1956 convention would wind up its business tonight as planned.

Before today's dawn four men had bid for the vice presidential nod. At mid-morning Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) made it five. Tennessee's Gov. Frank G. Clement "yielded" his ambitions for the spot in favor of the senator.

Alabama, first state on the convention roll call list, voted to yield to Tennessee for Gore's nomination.

Tennessee snubs Estes

The man with the biggest organization and a headstart over the rest of the field was Sen. Estes Kefauver, also of Tennessee. He has been snubbed by his home state delegation in this convention, but he claimed to have piled up some 350 votes in other delegations. It will take 686 1/2 to win.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, refusing to go after the job himself, said he believes the "three top runners" are Kefauver, Sen. John F. Kennedy (Mass.), and Sen. Hubert Humphrey (Minn.).

Lt. Gov. Jared Maddux of Tennessee nominated Gore.

He reminded the delegates that Gore is co-author of the highway construction bill passed by Congress this year.

He said Gore "uncovered and completely destroyed the Dixie-Yates contract."

Arizona yielded to Ohio for Michael V. DiSalle, former price administrator, to nominate Kefauver.

DiSalle said the post of vice president has grown in importance

Struggle for Senate Seats

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

As so often in the past, the battle for control of Congress — and especially the Senate — promises this year to be spectacularly close.

Even though the present Senate is Democratic by the smallest of margins, the general view a few months ago was that the Republicans had a very slim prospect of gaining command. Now, however, the lines are more tightly drawn and it could be anybody's Senate.

Naturally, in 1956 the presidential race will attract predominant attention. But the noise of the various Senate tussles should pro-
companiment.

Seats are up for grabs in all the nation's most populous states.
In Pennsylvania, rugged Sen.
James Duff, Republican, goes against a tough opponent in Joseph Clark, former Democratic mayor of Philadelphia.

In Ohio, Gov. Frank Lausche, five-term Democratic incumbent, tries the Senate pasture this time against Sen. George Bender, who two years ago won the remaining portion of the late Senator Taft's term.

New York's contenders aren't set yet, but if the veteran Sen.
Herbert Lehman tries again the Republicans clearly have their work cut out for them.

ILLINOIS' Republican Sen. Everett Dirksen has Democrat Richard Stengel to contend with, and no one at this writing can be sure what effect the "current state financial scandals will have on the senatorial struggle.

Fast-growing California this time pits GOP Sen. Thomas Kuchel against Democrat Richard Richards, who will be banking on the state's normal 3-2 Democratic edge in voter registrations.

Nearly all these races can be decided by paper-thin margins.
To have much hope of wresting control of the Senate from the opposition, Republicans must at least hold the four of these five seats they now have. Democratic gains here would vastly complicate the GOP's task.

Where Republicans must look for real hope of increasing their Senate numbers is in such states as Kentucky, West Virginia, Nevada, Oregon and Washington.

It is here, too, that their hopes got the biggest boost when the candidate lineup finally shaped up.

AMBASSADOR to India John Sherman Cooper encouraged the GOP when he agreed to run for the late Alben Barkley's seat in Kentucky against former Gov.
Lawrence Wetherby. Cooper twice before has won short Senate terms. On the other hand, Democratic Sen. Earle Clements seems pretty solidly fixed in the other Kentucky race.

West Virginia may be touch and go with Gov. William C. Marland, Democrat, ranged against a popular Republican, ex-Sen. Chapman Revercomb, who might draw labor support.

The Oregon race, of course, features Democratic Sen. Wayne Morse against the former Secretary of the Interior Douglas Mc-Kay. And in Washington the Democratic incumbent, Sen. Warren Magnuson, faces Gov. Arthur Langlie, Washington's only three-time governor.

But while Republicans are eagerly eyeing these Democratic seats, Democrats in turn have high hopes of cutting into GOP strength, not only the previously mentioned big states but in such places as Maryland, Connecticut, Iowa and Colorado. In the latter, former Secretary of Agriculture goes against former Gov.
Dan Thornton.

If half these races are as close as were the best of 1954, the prophets had better fold up their tents and steal quietly away.

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
Dulles Faces Extensive Rewrite Job on Platform

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —
Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will have a considerable rewrite job on his hands when he goes to San Francisco to help draft foreign policy planks for the 1956 Republican platform.

Dulles was principal architect of the 1952 platform's foreign policy section. It alone was 1,500 words long.

The Taft wing of the Republican party was looking over Dulles' shoulders as he wrote. There was substantial editing of his words.

As a result, Mr. Dulles had to do a lot of explaining to assure the other leading candidate, Gen.
Dwight D. Eisenhower, that everything was all right.

The final sandpapered planks that emerged bore a complete condemnation of what the GOP said had happened under the Truman administrations.

Dulles can't ride or beat that donkey again.

The GOP is on the defensive now.

THE FOREIGN POLICY plank preamble in the 1952 GOP platform charged the Truman administration with having "abandoned" Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Nationalist China.

Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam agreements were condemned.
It was claimed that, with foresight, the Korean war might have been prevented (though the then Ambassador Dulles himself was right there on the ground in Korea just before the shooting began, and he egged it on).

Latin America was said to have been neglected.

The Middle East and Africa were said to be seething with anti-American sentiment.

The Democratic answer to this is that they are still seething, only more so.

The Geneva summit conference is pointed to as not having been so hot, either.

AFTER THE WINDUP, the 1952
GOP platform did admit that "The good in our foreign policy has been accomplished with Republican cooperation." Organizing the United Nations, making peace treaties with Japan and Germany and the building of more solid security in Europe were mentioned.

North Atlantic Treaty Organization wasn't named, nor was the Marshall Plan nor Point Four.

Today the Democrats charge they have all been allowed to disintegrate.

But the Democratic-controlled Congress must bear a large share of the blame for the slippage in foreign aid.

The platform also promised that no treaty or agreement would violate constitutional rights. Senator Bricker's amendment to carry out this promise, opposed by both President Eisenhower and Dulles, is still dancing in the Senate.

The platform came out for mutually advantageous world trade.
But American participation in the proposed Organization for Trade Cooperation remains unauthorized.

THE DEMOCRATIC administration policy of "containment" of Soviet Russia and its satellites was criticized. Policies that would "revive courageous, liberating influences which are inherent in freedom" were promised.
Such signs of freedom as have been observed behind the curtain

since the death of Stalin, in East Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia, have been more demonstrations of internal combustion than external pressures.

But if the GOP wants to claim credit for them, it wouldn't be any wilder than other political boasts made by every party in an election year.

On more solid ground, the Republicans can make a clear claim to having ended the fighting in Korea, though the whole problem there has not been solved. The Southeast Asia Treaty Organization has been created. President Eisenhower's Atoms for Peace plan is being implemented.

Circus Coming
To Harrisburg
On September 10

The second largest circus in the U. S. A. is scheduled for a one-day only engagement at the Saline county fairgrounds, afternoon, and night, on Monday, Sept. 10.

representative for Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. Circus, has completed the preliminary arrangements for the visit of this famous Wild Animal Show, which is making its 36th annual tour.

This will mark the first appearance of a big circus here in seven years, and undoubtedly the very first one to bring such outstanding and unusual animals such as giraffes, hippopotamus, and rhinoceros. In addition a herd of 21 elephants, besides more than 200 animals including lions, tigers, pumas, and leopards, numerous species of monkeys, apes, and baboons; Black, Grizzly, Himalayan, and Polar Bears; hyenas, baby gorilla, kangaroos, mandrills, gnu, emu, llamas, seals, sea-lions, wart hogs, India water buffalo, zebu,

An aviary of tropical birds, dens of tropical reptiles; also 127 head of horses, ponies, Kilo, Yak and donkeys. Now recognized as the largest, most varied and costly collection of rare animals ever exhibited with an American circus.

Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. is now exceeded only in size by the famed Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey show.

No Fatal Mine
Accidents in July

SPRINGFIELD — Illinois mines produced 2,968,280 tons of coal during July, with no fatal accidents, Mines and Minerals Director Ben H. Schull reported today.

Schull said July was the second month this year in which no fatal accidents were reported. However, 67 persons were injured during July. Twelve persons have been killed and 593 injured in mine operations so far this year.

The July production was down sharply from 3,459,596 tons produced in June, slightly above the July, 1955, production. Schull said Strip mines produced 1,194,358 tons during the month, with the remainder from shaft mines.

Thinking
It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
Written for NEA Service

NOTEBOOKS are strange records. People go to meetings, conferences and classes and listen to speakers or group discussions.
They write down in their own words the thoughts which impress them as being important.
Sometimes the notes are detailed because people wish to study the thoughts of other people and relate the idea to their own thinking.

Our lives are influenced by the things we see, the words we hear and the experiences we have. We constantly make mental notes and apply these memoranda to our own lives. Everything we do is influenced by our past experiences. Many of the influences are lost in the maze of multiple events, but the consolidation is long-lasting.

We destroy letters, clippings and books which pile up in the nooks and crannies of our homes, but the notes we take are cherished above many of our other possessions. Although we seldom refer to the notebooks in our files, we hold them as symbols of the information which belongs to us. We look upon our notes as part of ourselves.

Since we are influenced by other people, we should remember that others are influenced by us.
Scores of people are making notes on our words and deeds. Scores of people cherish the words we say.

We could do well to review our words and acts in normal day-by-day living to be sure that we want to be cherished in the notebooks of our friends. We better be certain that our influence is worth saying.

If we pattern ourselves on our religious ideals we shall not be liabilities in the storehouses of our friends and associates.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Cast thy burden on the Lord and He shall sustain you. Psalm 55:22.
When our burden becomes too great for our strength we should pass the burden on God. It's his world after all.

Janus was a two-faced Roman god so that no one could enter the gates of Rome without his knowing it.

Personal Shower Held For Miss Barbara Fearheiley

Miss Barbara Fearheiley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Fearheiley, was honored with a personal shower last evening at the home of Mrs. Pat Gilley who was assisted by Mrs. J. W. Pulliam.

Miss Fearheiley will be married tomorrow evening to Second Lieutenant Jim Bramlet at post chapel No. 8 in Fort Campbell, Ky.

The table was attractively decorated with a colorful cake, white candles and punch bowl and was centered with a lovely floral arrangement of white, pink and blue spider mums and daisies in a setting of white styrofoam with silver leaves and two white wedding bells bearing the names "Barb" and "Jim" in gold letters.

After Miss Fearheiley had opened her many beautiful gifts of lingerie, cake and red punch were served on trays containing miniature umbrellas in gumdrops, to the following: Misses Letitia Skaggs, Wanda Smith, Bonita Booten, Mrs. George Aud, Mrs. Ron Ziegler, Mrs. Jim Miller, Mrs. Bob Davis, Mrs. Jim Guard, Mrs. B. F. Fearheiley, Mrs. Wendell Bramlet, mother of the bridegroom-elect, Mrs. Pulliam, Mrs. Gilley and the honoree, Miss Barbara Fearheiley.

Marriage of Miss Barbara Nell Bristow, Tony Long Solemnized At First Apostolic

On the evening of Monday, Aug. 13, Miss Barbara Nell Bristow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bristow, 1328 West Largent, became the bride of Tony Long, son of Mrs. Monroe Shirley of Forrest City, Ark.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joe Webb at the First Apostolic church in Harrisburg.

Mrs. Webb, pianist, played the traditional wedding march.

The bride wore for her wedding a lovely dress of blue nylon lace over acetate taffeta and net. Her accessories were white and she wore a corsage of white baby mums.

Mrs. Gordon Yarbrough, sister of the bride and matron of honor, was attired in a pink dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was also of white baby mums. Gordon Yarbrough, brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man.

Mrs. Bristow wore for her daughter's wedding a blue nylon dress with white accessories.

The bride is a 1956 graduate of the Harrisburg Township high school, and the bridegroom is with the Marine Corps and is now stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif., after serving 15 months overseas duty.

The couple will leave Friday for Oceanside, Calif., where they will make their home.

Queen Elizabeth Faces Scottish Church Criticism

LONDON (UP)—Queen Elizabeth II sailed today into stormy Scottish waters and a controversy over allegations she fails to keep the Sabbath.

The royal yacht Britannia took Britain's youthful sovereign toward the rugged Isle of North Uist in the Hebrides and one of the centers of discontent.

There were several disturbing symptoms: The Queen will not get her usual bouquet of flowers when she arrives. The royal visit committee was mysteriously silent on why not.

Four members of the committee resigned, reportedly because native islanders were neglected in the invitation list for presentation to the Queen.

A second Free Scottish Church pastor refused an invitation to meet the Queen on conscientious grounds.

The Rev. James Morrison professed his loyalty to the Queen but declined to say why he refuses to meet her. A fellow pastor, the Rev. Kenneth Macrae, said he declined because the Queen watches polo playing on Sundays.

Morrison has frequently objected in the past to the fact the Duke of Edinburgh plays polo on Sundays.

Board Commends

State's Attorney

"We do not believe that the state's attorney needs any authority from this board to do his official duty, but if he does, it is hereby given him."

It further stated that "in our opinion the problem of the county clerk's office should be the first order of business. We cannot hide our heads under a basket and say we are not aware of the county-wide interest and concern over this office."

"The principle involved in this case is clear and should not be obscured by partisan interest," it continued. "It must first be determined whether the county clerk has embezzled or misappropriated any funds. If he has he should be found guilty, removed from office, and suit filed against the surety of his official bond to collect any sum due this county."

"If the county clerk has done no wrong, he owes nothing to the county. It certainly would be the height of inconsistency to file suit against an official to recover money allegedly misappropriated or embezzled and permit that same official to continue in office."

Oppose New Audit

Regarding the audit made by Coker and Coker, Peoria audit firm, the resolution said:

"The recent audit of the county clerk's office brought to a focus rumors that had been heard for months. This audit was made by a responsible firm that has audited the offices of this county for several years. We have no reason to doubt the accuracy of this audit and therefore do not feel justified in spending county funds for another suit." (A new audit had been suggested by State's Attorney Wilson at a previous meeting.)

ney Wilson at a previous meeting.)

The resolution said that the board will give sympathetic consideration if the state's attorney requests additional funds to investigate and prosecute the matter.

Prior to the passage of the resolution, a motion approved said that all salary claims should be paid except those where the budget and appropriation ordinance figures set forth had been exceeded, and to wait for the state's attorney to return home from Chicago to get advice from him on what to do on any claims that might be held up.

New Vaccine Proves Effective Against Grippe

WASHINGTON (UP)—A new vaccine has proved at least 50 to 70 per cent effective against some forms of that king-size winter troublemaker grippe.

That's the word of government scientists who reported Thursday night on extensive tests they ran last winter on 16,000 recruits at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center in Illinois.

"All the evidence indicates," they reported, that the vaccine provides "substantial" protection against the so-called adenoviruses which cause some of the worst kinds of grippe.

The scientists, representing the National Institutes of Health and the Navy, said the vaccine looks like a "promising" weapon for reducing the heavy incidence of respiratory infections among military recruits.

Eventually, the vaccine may also prove helpful to the general civilian population which suffers untold miseries every year from grippe and other common respiratory infections.

Egyptians Claim Nine Killed by Israeli Troops

CAIRO, Egypt (UP)—Israeli troops penetrated Egyptian territory Thursday night and killed nine Egyptian soldiers, Egyptian reports said today.

First reports said the Israelis penetrated Egyptian territory near Deirerbalah in the Gaza Strip and at Rafah on the Egyptian-Israeli border and clashed with Egyptian forces.

Rafah is on the coast near the former border between Egypt and Palestine. Deirerbalah is in the Gaza Strip, scene of some of the most bitter clashes between Israeli and Egyptian forces during the last 18 months.

India is the second biggest film producing country in the world, surpassed only by the United States.

Britain Accepts Peace Offer by Cypriot Group

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — British officials today accepted a "peace offer" by the EOKA underground with reservations. But they prepared to reopen negotiations on Cyprus' future if the offer proved genuine.

The underground organization Thursday night dramatically called off a wave of sniping and bomb-throwing which has kept this Mediterranean island in a state of terror for the last 16 months.

The Blonde Cried MURDER
By Brett Halliday

Copyright 1956 by Brett Halliday Distributed by NEA Service

LUCY had been sitting beside the telephone like this ever since Shayne had phoned to say he was sending his latest blonde over to her place for her to hold the girl's hand.

So, he didn't know whether she was "actually nuts" or not? And Lucy was supposed to bed down this blonde half-wit and keep her quiet and entertained while Shayne went off on a tangent hunting a brother who might not be a brother after all because she said her brother had been murdered—

Her buzzer sounded from the push-button in the foyer downstairs. Lucy got up and went to the door and unhooked the receiver and spoke into the mouthpiece: "Yes? Who is it?"

"Miss Hamilton?" The voice was flat and metallic in her ear. "Yes."

"This is— I've a note for you from Mr. Shayne."

Lucy said coldly, "I know. He telephoned for me to expect you. I'm on the first floor." She pressed the button that released the catch on the inside door below. She held it a long moment, then released it and opened her door, stepping out on the landing and listened to the clack of high heels ascending the stairs.

She stood there and watched, saw the top of a blonde head of hair appear over the railing, then a pretty young face that was tilted upward anxiously. A timid smile fluttered on red lips when the girl saw her waiting on the landing. She came on up, clutching a black suede handbag nervously and said, "Miss Hamilton?"

"I know just about what Mr. Shayne said," Lucy assured her dryly. "It's all part of my job—giving succor to his frightened female clients."

She stood back composedly and let the girl precede her into the lighted room, closed the door firmly and made sure it was double-locked, then turned slowly to look at her visitor.

SHE had stopped in the center of the room and stood there with her back to Lucy. For a moment, her young shoulders slumped forlornly, and Lucy had to fight back a sudden up-welling of sympathy. She didn't want to feel sympathetic. She wanted to hate the girl who had taken Michael away from her on this particular night.

When the girl just kept on standing there with her back turned, Lucy moved toward her, saying calmly, "So, you're Miss Paulson? May I call you Nellie?"

The girl whirled about at the words, her features twisting strangely, her eyes wild, and Shayne's warning came sharply to Lucy: "I don't know whether she's actually nuts or not, but on the fringe."

"On the fringe" was putting it mildly, Lucy thought to herself as the girl demanded, "How did you know—who told you my name was Nellie Paulson?"

"Mr. Shayne. When he telephoned me."

"Oh—I see." The distorted features smoothed out slowly. She even managed a smile as she fumbled with the catch of her black bag and got it open, extracted a sheet of paper and held it out to Lucy. Here's the note he wrote for you. Just so you'll know."

Lucy glanced at the note and found it was about what she had expected. In the meantime, the girl turned away from her to the sofa, removing her jacket as she did so. "You've got a drink all poured out for me," she breathed happily, reaching for the cognac glass waiting for Shayne's return. "Not that one!"

She drew her hand back from the wine glass as though it had burned her, and looked up in perplexity. "Sorry, I thought you'd fixed it for me."

Now her lips were pouting and she looked like a child about to cry.

Lucy said hurriedly, "You're welcome to a drink, of course, I'll get you another glass." She went swiftly into the kitchen and returned with a clean glass. "I'd poured that for Mr. Shayne when he was called out to see you, and he promised to be back to drink with me before midnight."

"Before midnight?" her visitor echoed speculatively.

"Not that I believe for a moment he'll make it," Lucy shrugged.

"How much—did Mr. Shayne tell you about me over the phone?"

"Not very much. Just that some awful man is chasing you with a gun, and you're frightened and I'm not to let anyone in. So you needn't be worried any more," Lucy went on practically. "I'm quite sure Michael will take care of everything."

"Oh, I'm sure he will, too," the girl agreed fervently. "He's really wonderful, isn't he? Mr. Shayne? It must be marvelous to work for him. So exciting and interesting."

"It's seldom dull," Lucy conceded dryly.

Lucy sat erect suddenly as she finished speaking, and leaned forward to put her glass down. "I forgot. I promised to call him as soon as you got here."

She went to the telephone and dialed a number, and when a male voice replied, she said:

"I'd like Chief Gentry's office, please. If he's still at headquarters."

Phone-Mad Daughter Is Taught Lesson

BENTON HARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—When a subscriber called the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. to ask that his phone be disconnected for 30 days, Mrs. Grant Derfelt quickly asked whether he was taking a vacation.

"No, not a vacation; I'm going to be at home," the man answered.

"Nothing wrong with the service, I hope."

"No. The service is fine. I'm just getting tired of complaints."

"Complaints... what kind of complaints?" Mrs. Derfelt asked.

"Well, I'll tell you, I've got a teen-age daughter, and she's always and forever on the phone. We're on a party line and I just get tired of having other people on the line call me up and complain."

"I warned my daughter, but she wouldn't listen, so now I'm going to rip that phone right out for a month. Maybe this'll teach her."

Eugene "Buck" Schnierle of Schnierle's cafes in Harrisburg and Mt. Vernon, who is first vice-president of the Illinois Elks Association, will go to San Francisco next month on business for the Elks association.

The 1957 Elks National Convention will be held in San Francisco, and it is the duty of Mr. Schnierle to make arrangements for hotel reservations by the Illinois delegation to the national convention, which will number around 300. Mr. Schnierle must also engage service for a luncheon by the Illinois delegation and at last year's convention the Illinois luncheon was attended by 400.

Mr. Schnierle, who also operated the Marion motel cafe until it was badly damaged by fire a few weeks ago, does not plan to resume business at the Marion motel, he said today. The owners of the motel will likely resume its operation.

New Migratory Waterfowl Hunting Rules

WASHINGTON — Fall flights of wild ducks are expected to equal those of last year. The Interior Department announced this today along with its new migratory waterfowl regulations for the coming season.

The new hunting regulations govern the general length of the seasons, bag and possession limits and shooting hours.

Specific hunting dates will be selected by the states within the general limits of Oct. 1 to Jan. 15, 1957. They will be announced after states make their selections and the Fish & Wildlife Service approves them.

All the Mississippi Flyway states except Minnesota, may select identical seasons on waterfowl and coots of 70 consecutive full days, or two seasons aggregating 63 full days, within the Oct. 1-Jan. 15 framework.

Daily bag and possession limits on ducks in these states will remain at four and eight respectively, except in Minnesota. The Mississippi Flyway states, including Minnesota, will have a daily bag and possession limit of 5 on geese.

The limits on geese may not include more than two Canada geese, two white-faced geese or one Canada goose, or its species and one white-faced goose.

The Mississippi Flyway states are Alabama, Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio, Tennessee and Wisconsin.

The Gallatin county Methodist Men's organization today announced that their Evangelistic Crusade will continue through Sunday, Aug. 19. The "Mission" is being held in the tent at the intersection of Illinois Routes 1 and 13.

Much effort, and time have been put forth to insure that a well directed, highly organized, inspiring "Mission" will see results for years to come as a result of their work. A sincere welcome is extended to all who can possibly attend these closing nights.

Arrest Two in Riesel Blinding

WASHINGTON — The Justice Department today announced the arrest of two ex-convicts in connection with the acid blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel in New York last April 5. It also named a dead man as the one who threw acid into Riesel's face.

The department said FBI agents have taken into custody Joseph Peter Carlino, 43, and Gennaro Miranti, 37, both of New York City.

They were charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice.

The department named Abraham Telvi, now dead, as a co-conspirator in the attack. It said the FBI "developed evidence that Telvi was the one who actually threw the acid."

Telvi's body, with a bullet hole in the back of the head, was found on a street in the lower East Side of New York City early the morning of July 28.

held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the New Burnside Methodist church and burial will be in the New Burnside cemetery.

Wilt Chamberlain Is Better Now Than Bill Russell, Dr. Allen Says

CARBONDALE, Ill. — "Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain is better right now than San Francisco's Bill Russell ever was," declared Dr. F. C. (Phog) Allen at the opening session of Southern Illinois University's eighth annual coaching clinic Thursday.

Allen, who may be a bit prejudiced in the matter since he was Chamberlain's cage coach at the University of Kansas last winter, added that Chamberlain, a sophomore this season, has a 13-foot stride and can guard against the shooting of any player in the country.

Pointing out how tall men in basketball are a rather recent thing, Allen said that in a survey made in 1937, the tallest college basketball player was 6 feet, 10 1/2 inches. "Today," he continued, "there are more than 100 college players in the seven-foot bracket."

Allen said that his friend, Dr. James Naismith of Springfield (Mass.) College, who invented basketball in 1891, had no idea that anyone would ever be able to dunk the ball. "That's the reason he made the basket so high."

Allen was critical of the rule-makers, the Globe-Trotters, and "pampered athletes." Indicating that rules are often unrealistic, Allen pointed out how basketball is about the only sport where it sometimes pays to violate rules. "It's a 'reverse English' education," he continued, "when coaches sometimes tell their players to foul. Now this year a college team which fouls can have both the inside slots in the free throw lane."

Concerning the Globe-Trotters, Allen said, "They have done more damage to good basketball than anything else. They play an entirely different type of basketball."

In regard to "spoiled athletes," Allen told how he used to kick players off the team for breaking training, but later let the team decide on keeping or dismissing violators.

Allen was one of the six speakers at the two-day SIU clinic, which concludes today. More than 200 coaches from Illinois, Missouri, Kentucky, and Michigan attended.

Speakers at the Friday session were George Mikan, professional basketball player for the Minneapolis Lakers; Alex Saudargas, ex-coach of the West Rockford High School; Wirt Downing, principal of the East St. Louis Senior High School; and E. L. (Doc) Benicini, new grid coach at the SIU University School.

Sharing the billing with Allen in the Thursday session was Al Kaval, head SIU football mentor, who spoke on the "T-Offense with a Split Line" and "Team Defenses."

The 70-year-old Allen, who holds the most victorious record in basketball (771 wins compared to only 233 losses in 40 years of coaching), was head coach at the University of Kansas for 30 years, his teams winning 591 while dropping only 219.

Schedule Big Car Auto Racing Here For Sept. 15

Big car automobile racing is returning to Harrisburg soon.

An announcement was made today by officials of the Saline County Fair Association and the Mississippi Valley Championship Circuit of Racing that the big cars would return to Harrisburg Saturday, Sept. 15.

The thrilling program of big car racing presented on the closing night of the Saline County Fair, Friday, Aug. 3, left little doubt with the fans in attendance that it was big time competitive racing.

And the fans got "something extra" due to accidents that wrecked a couple of the racing autos and injured five persons when the cars went speeding into the fences.

Date of the racing program is after the regular fair circuit season and many more cars are expected than were here early this month.

In the Sept. 15 racing program the drivers will be out to break the new track record now held by Arnold Knepper of Belleville. Knepper's time in a very fast Mercury-powered car was 23.45 seconds. The track was in good condition, but officials and drivers both were of the opinion that additional running could produce even faster times for the Saline County Fairgrounds track.

Time trials for the Sept. 15 event will be at 7 p. m.

Braves Warm Up for Series With Reds as Burdette Shuts Out Cardinals, 8-0

By United Press
Curve-balling Larry Jansen, who never ducked a tough assignment when he was with the New York Giants, will be on the spot again tonight when the Cincinnati Redlegs open another vital four-game series against the Milwaukee Braves.

In his first comeback start last Friday night, the lantern-jawed right hander pitched Cincinnati to an 8-1 triumph over the Braves.

Facing the 36-year-old Jansen tonight will be the Braves newest pitching "phenom," Taylor Phillips. Only 23, Phillips was still in knee-pants when Jansen started his pro career in 1940, but he looked like a seasoned pitcher in beating the Redlegs with a seven-hitter last Monday night.

Burdette Shuts Out Cards
The Braves warmed up for this latest trip into the Rhineland by topping the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-0, Thursday night on Lew Burdette's five-hitter. The Dodgers remained three games back of Milwaukee by edging the Giants, 10-9, on Duke Snider's 13th inning homer, while the Redlegs dropped 3-1-2 games off the pace by falling before the Cubs, 4-2, in a day game. Burdette aided his own cause against the Cardinals by knocking in two runs during a five-run burst in the opening inning. Stan Musial collected three of the five hits off Burdette, including a double which enabled him to set a new National League career record of 1,072 extra-base hits.

Snider's game-winning homer off Dick Littlefield was his 33rd of the season. It came only two minutes before New York's 12:50 a. m. curfew. The Giants had tied the score at 9-9 in the sixth inning on a three-run, pinch-homer by Hank Thompson. Willie Mays also hit a three-run homer for the suddenly-aroused Giants.

Sam Jones struck out 13 Cincinnati batters while his Chicago mates racked Brooks Lawrence for 12 hits. The Cubs broke a 2-2 tie in the seventh with a two-run rally,

Sugar Creek, Dairy Brand, Cubs Win Kiwanis Games

By David Nelson
Sugar Creek pounded Pankey's, 18-7; Dairy Brand won from Crab Orchard on a forfeit, 9-0, and the Cubs defeated Walker's, 16-13, in Kiwanis league play Thursday.

Karnes pitched a five-hitter as Sugar Creek beat Pankey's, 18-7. Karnes allowed only eight base runners as he walked two and got on base on an error. For the winners at the plate Rauh had three singles, Fields picked up two base blows, Wiley homered and Cushman, Gulley, Karnes and Hopkins hit safely once each. Barrett led the losers at bat with a homer and a single and Gibbons, Owen, and Trammel had single hits. Gibbons was the losing pitcher. The game put Sugar Creek, Pankey's and Jackson's in a tie for the Kitty league lead with 4-2 records.

Betz hit a three-run homer in the seventh to give the Cubs a 16-13 victory over Walker's. The home run was Betz' fourth hit of the game. He combined with Lambert on a seven-hitter. Brown homered and Lambert singled for the winners' only other hits. For the losers on the attack Potter had a homer and a single, Hodson doubled and singled, Pavelonis homered and Wiley and Businaro hit safely once. Potter was the losing pitcher.

CHICAGO — Judge Joseph J. Butler dismissed Ben E. Mitchell, 39, St. Louis, Thursday on charges of scalping tickets to the Democratic National Convention.

Butler did not consider the Democratic convention a place of amusement.

Minor, Vance Visit Here On U.I. Poster Tour

Jim Minor, captain and senior center of the 1956 University of Illinois football team, visited Harrisburg yesterday, stopping on a statewide tour distributing posters for the current Illini season.

With Minor, who prepped at Chicago's Leo high school, was Gene Vance, former Illini Whiz Kid basketball player, who recently was named field secretary of the University of Illinois Alumni association.

Minor came into his own at center for Coach Ray Eliot in 1955 after having missed two seasons because of a shoulder injury. An operation cured this ailment and Minor was prominently mentioned among All Big Ten choices last year.

He is 6-3, weighs 210 in playing trim, and is a rugged linebacker.

In Harrisburg both Minor and Vance were optimistic about the 1956 Illini football team. They said biggest problems were at quarterback, tackle and end. Dick Nordmeyer, Murphysboro gridders who has played against Harrisburg teams, should be a first string tackle this year, Minor said. Nordmeyer is a junior.

He said there was a possibility that another southern Illinois player, Danny Wile of Salem, might be available as a back.

There are four home games on the Illinois schedule: California Sept. 29, Ohio State Oct. 13, Michigan State (Homecoming) Oct. 27 and Wisconsin (Dad's Day) Nov. 17. On the road the Illini will meet Washington at Seattle Oct. 6, Minnesota Oct. 20, Purdue Nov. 3, Michigan Nov. 10 and Northwestern Nov. 24.

Pro Giants Lose 245-Pound Tackle

BURLINGTON, Vt. — Just when the New York Giants were beginning to think they would have one of the best defensive lines in the National Football League this season they learned Rex Boggan, 245-pound tackle, will be lost to them for the year and may be through altogether. The former Mississippi lineman, who plays both ways, has a calcium deposit just above the right ankle and will need surgery.

Eldorado Teen-Age Teams to Play Maunie

Eldorado's teen age baseball team, the Cubs, will be host Sunday to the Maunie team. The Cubs' home games are played on the Raleigh park diamond and Sunday's battle, the final home game of the season for the Cubs, will start at 2 p. m.

King will be the starting hurler for Eldorado with Hasel, behind the plate.

Nixon Stops Yanks

In the American League, the Red Sox halted the Yankees, 2-1, behind Willard Nixon's neat two-hitter; Rocky Colavito's first major league grand-slam home run helped the Indians edge the Tigers 5-4, and Minnie Minoso's timely hitting enabled the White Sox to down the Athletics, 6-5. The Orioles and the Senators were not scheduled.

Jackie Jensen's two-run homer in the sixth inning provided the Red Sox with their margin. Nixon held the Yankees hitless until the eighth inning.

Al Rosen followed up Colavito's four-play blast with a bases-empty homer in the third inning that enabled the Indians to fight off the Tigers. Herb Score picked up his 13th victory, although he needed relief help from Early Wynn in the seventh.

Minoso singled home the tying run in the fifth inning against the A's and then knocked in the winning run with a seventh inning triple. Larry Doby also got into the act with his 16th homer.

in recent years. He said the people now feel that the vice president must be able to step into the presidency.

He said that no one has "captivated the heart of the people" as has Kefauver.

Connecticut sent Gov. Abraham Ribicoff to the platform to place Kennedy in nomination.

Ribicoff said Kennedy would appeal to young people and "has a personality" which would appeal to independents. He told the delegates that Kennedy has never lost an election.

Limit Speeches

The convention agreed to limit nominating speeches to five minutes, and to authorize only two seconding speeches of two minutes each. It also agreed to ban demonstrations in the race for the vice presidency.

Backstage, there was high confusion as politicians lined up to notify the platform staff that they would nominate various candidates. Senators, state chairmen, and party big-wigs huddled in every available meeting room, scribbling nominating speeches and conferring in the confusion generated by Stevenson's surprise action by throwing the nomination for the second spot wide open.

From Florida, Rep. Robert L. Sikes stepped up to nominate Gov. Le Roy Collins.

Sikes said Collins would serve as a "good right arm" for Stevenson.

One delegation after another passed—Illinois, Indiana, and on down the list to Minnesota for the nomination of Humphrey.

Speaking for Minnesota, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri made the nominating speech for Humphrey.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York was the big city mayor in the race. He had the help of former Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley.

New Jersey gave Wagner a boost by voting to give him 31 of its 36 votes. The delegation committed 4½ votes for Kefauver and ½ a vote for Kennedy.

Stevenson set off the mad scramble for the vice presidential nomination in a dramatic speech to the convention Thursday night, shortly after he had won first place on the ticket by polling 905 out of the 1,372 votes on the first ballot. His nearest rival, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, drew only 210 votes.

The smiling nominee strode to the rostrum of the stockyards convention hall and informed the thunderstruck delegates that he had decided to forego his traditional right to handpick a runningmate, and would leave the decision to the "free processes" of an open convention.

It was a bold move, designed to focus public attention on President Eisenhower's health and the expected Republican renomination of Vice President Richard M. Nixon—the main Democratic issues in the coming campaign.

Stevenson made that clear by saying that the choice of a vice presidential candidate has become "almost as important as the choice for the presidency." He recalled the seven times in U. S. history when a vice president has succeeded to the White House and said "each political party has the solemn obligation" to nominate a vice president who is "fully equipped" to be president.

Stevenson kept the cheering, singing delegates waiting for an hour in the steamy stockyards Amphitheater before he arrived. He said he had not come to make an acceptance speech—that is set for tonight—but to thank them and make an announcement.

"The American people have the solemn obligation to consider with the utmost care who will be their president if the elected president is prevented by a higher will from serving his full term," the former Illinois governor said. "It is a sober reminder that seven out of 34 presidents have served as the result of such an indirect selection."

"The responsibility of the presidency has grown so great that the nation's attention has become focused as never before on the office of the vice presidency. The choice for that office has become almost as important as the choice for the presidency."

"Each political party has, therefore, the solemn obligation to offer the country as its choice for the vice presidency a person fully equipped, first, to assist in the discharge of the duties of the most exacting job in the world and, second, to himself assume, if need be, this highest responsibility."

Stevenson noted that, historically, the vice presidential candidate has usually been hand-picked by the presidential nominee, sometimes for "political expediency"—that is, as the result of a deal. But he said he was pleased that his nomination had come to him with no strings attached, and that he had not "a single commitment except faith in the program and principles of our party."

"In these circumstances I have concluded to depart from the precedents of the past," said Stevenson. "I have decided that the selection of the vice presidential nominee should be made through the free processes of this convention—so that the Democratic Party's candidate for this office may join me before the nation not as one man's selection but as one chosen by our great party even as I have been chosen."

Hagerty Says Eisenhower Can Beat Stevenson

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said today he is "sure" President Eisenhower can beat Adlai E. Stevenson, in November.

This is as far as the White House has gone in commenting on Stevenson's landslide nomination as the Democrats' 1956 standard bearer.

Hagerty broke his week-long blackout on political comment when a reporter asked whether he believes "the President can beat Stevenson again?"

"Just say I laughed — and then said, 'Sure,'" Hagerty replied.

Hagerty disclosed that Harold E. Stassen, who has been pushing a "dump Nixon" campaign, saw Mr. Eisenhower for about five minutes this morning. Hagerty said he did not know whether the President and Stassen discussed the vice presidential issue.

Mr. Eisenhower leaves for San Francisco next Wednesday to accept the Republican nomination.

The President's second meeting in a row with the National Security Council today was not prompted by any emergency. It was part of his plan to clear his desk of next week's business before going to San Francisco.

Probe Cause Of Ordill Blast

ORDILL, Ill. (U.P.) — Universal Match Co. officials today investigated the cause of a blast that hospitalized five women workers Thursday.

One woman, Mrs. Lester Earnhart, Coello, was released from Memorial hospital at Marion Thursday night. An attending physician said he expected the other four women would be released today.

"It was largely a matter of hysteria," the doctor said. "The women and five men employees ran clear of the building after smoke was noticed in a remote control powder-mixing bay."

One woman hurt her knee when she stumbled while running. Another wrenched her back as she was climbing over a railing.

The five men were checked at the hospital and released.

Sam Ehrlich, plant manager, said persons working in the area where the blast occurred will not be called back until "we exhaust every possible means of determining what caused the explosion."

Some 35 workers were idled while damage, which the company had not yet estimated, was being repaired.

Horror Actor

HOLLYWOOD (U.P.) — Horror actor Bela Lugosi died in his sleep Thursday.

The body of the Hungarian-born actor, who was 73, was discovered by his wife, a movie studio cutting clerk, when she arrived home from work at 9:45 p. m. EDT. She said he usually took a nap in the afternoon.

His physician said he had a background of hardening of the arteries but it was believed he died of a heart attack.

They were charged with entering a store at Glendale, in Pope county, and were sentenced by Judge C. Ross Reynolds in Pope county circuit court.

Dennis Praised For Handling of Youth Problems

County Judge Trafton Dennis today received a letter from Robert D. Patton, chairman of the Illinois Youth commission, regarding Dennis' handling of youth problems in his court.

After thanking and congratulating Dennis on the fine record of the court regarding juvenile problems, Patton wrote:

"I know you have many juvenile problems and yet the fact that your court has committed less than the average for the state to the Illinois Youth commission indicates a great amount of work and time has been spent combatting juvenile delinquency in your county."

"We know that any time a boy's or girl's problems are solved in his own community instead of relying on institutionalization, that child has a better chance of becoming a good productive citizen. You have every reason to be proud of your record."

Stassen, Nixon Leave for GOP Convention

SAN FRANCISCO (U.P.) — Harold E. Stassen headed for the Republican National Convention today to wage his personal, last-ditch fight to dump Vice President Richard M. Nixon from the GOP ticket.

Nixon also left for Whittier, Calif., where he and his wife will spend the night before flying to San Francisco Saturday.

Both Stassen and Nixon left from Washington by plane.

Stassen, who visited the White House twice Thursday, appeared discouraged in his drive to replace Nixon with Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts despite what was conceded to be virtually impossible odds by party strategists.

California's political handicappers freely predicted Nixon's renomination by acclamation. They cited Herter's announcement Thursday that he would fight any move to give him the vice presidential nomination, the refusal of California's Gov. Goodwin Knight to let his name be placed in nomination and a statement from Thomas E. Dewey that he sees no other candidate but Nixon.

Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall declared that the Democrats' renomination of Adlai E. Stevenson was "just fine with us." He said "I don't know what I can say about Mr. Stevenson that Averell Harriman and (Estes) Kefauver haven't already said."

Hall predicted to newsmen that Stevenson will "go down to more devastating defeat than he experienced in 1952" partly, he said, because of the Democrats' "split" on the civil rights issue.

In marked contrast to the Democrats battling in Chicago, the Republicans Thursday raced through almost perfunctory hearings on their platform with little or no controversy.

IPAC Reports 3,444 Drop in June Caseloads

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.) — The Illinois Public Aid Commission today reported a drop of 3,444 persons in public assistance caseloads from May to June.

IPAC Executive Secretary Garrett W. Keaster said the June caseload of 268,306 persons also was 9,058 persons smaller than the June, 1955, caseload.

Public aid expenditures for June totaled $12,559,953, compared with $12,756,966 in May and $12,624,803 in June, 1955.

Biggest decline in the June aid figures came in the large general assistance program which was down 6,288 persons and $208,034 from May.

Old age and blind assistance caseloads also dropped from May to June, but disability assistance and aid to dependent children caseloads increased.

Grand Champion Steer at Fair Sells for $1,232

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.) — The grand champion steer of the Illinois state fair today brought a record of $1,100 a pound and a total of $1,232 at the fair steer sale.

The grand champion, an Aberdeen Angus named "Old Man," was owned by John Morris, 18, son of State Rep. and Mrs. John K. Morris, Chadwick.

Walker's Public Food Markets, of Springfield and Decatur, bought the grand champion steer on a bid entered for them by Peters Packing Co., Springfield.

Fair oldtimers said the previous record price for a fair grand champion steer was $1.06 a pound in 1955.

ICC Orders Hearing ON NYC Proposal At Mount Carmel

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.) — The Illinois Commerce Commission today ordered a hearing on the New York Central Railroad's petition to abandon trains 452 and 463, now operating between Chicago and Harrisburg, to be held at Mount Carmel. The New York Central Users Defense committee, which opposes the removal of the trains, had asked for the hearing.

The Commission also authorized Railway Express Agency Inc. to increase its first and second class express rates 7 percent. The ICC also suspended proposed increases on express rates for bakery goods, cut flowers, fruits and similar articles.

Stevenson Pays Call on Truman

an open vice presidential contest. "That's it," he said. "It doesn't make any difference what I think."

His answer indicated that he was not enthusiastic about the unusual procedure.

The avowed candidates for the No. 2 spot on the ticket with Stevenson also were at the party. Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Minn., arrived at 2:13 a. m. Fifteen minutes later Sen. Estes Kefauver, Tenn., left the suite, Sen. John F. Kennedy, Mass., and New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner were among the last to depart.

In the midst of the party, Stevenson, James A. Finnegan, his campaign manager, and a group of others climbed one flight of stairs to the suite of New York Gov. Averell Harriman, the loser in the race for the presidential nomination.

About 10 minutes later, Stevenson, Harriman and Mrs. Harriman emerged to pose for pictures.

Stevenson told Harriman, "I'm happy the whole war is over."

Harriman was asked whether he and Stevenson discussed the question of their preferences for vice president.

"I asked him what his 'druthers' were, and he said he had nothing further to add to what he already told the convention," Harriman replied.

Before the party, Stevenson received cheers on his nomination from workers in his headquarters. Stevenson told them he would "fight all the way" to win the presidency in November.

He said he was "relieved and happy" that the fight for the nomination was over.

"This is the end of a long journey," he told workers and friends in an almost prayerful tone. "It also is the beginning of a long journey, and I'm going to fight all the way."

Nomination is Climax to Long Fight by Adlai

CHICAGO (U.P.) — Adlai E. Stevenson, a draftee for party honors in past years, fought long and hard to win the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination.

It was a new turn in the brief political career of the 56-year-old former Illinois governor. Formerly, his party posts came to him on a silver platter.

Stevenson got into politics only eight years ago. Democrats were hard put for a candidate to oppose Republican Gov. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Someone suggested Stevenson, a little-known lawyer and diplomat.

Stevenson accepted the bid, and won nomination without opposition. Then he surprised everyone by waging a vigorous campaign that won him election by a record margin of 572,000 votes.

Four years later, Stevenson's name came up again when national party chiefs sought a candidate for president to succeed Harry S. Truman.

Stevenson was reluctant. He had been renominated to a second term as governor, without opposition, and he said he wanted nothing else. He went so far as to say "I would shoot myself" if drafted.

Changed Tactics

But draft him the Democratic convention did, and he accepted. He was beaten in the November, 1952, election by Dwight D. Eisenhower, 33,936,252 to 27,314,992. Stevenson carried only nine states.

Stevenson changed tactics after his defeat. He established himself as titular head of the party, made a round of speeches to melt the party's 1952 deficit, and toured some of the world's trouble spots.

Then last Nov. 15 Stevenson came out flatly with the announcement he would "do all I can" to win the 1956 presidential nomination again.

Though Stevenson still ranks as a newcomer to politics, his family is steeped in political tradition. He once remarked he had "a bad case of hereditary politics."

A great-grandfather was an adviser to Abraham Lincoln. A grandfather was vice president under Grover Cleveland, and his father was an Illinois secretary of state.

Stevenson held a number of appointive federal jobs over a 12-year period before he became governor. These posts were connected with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, the Navy Department, the State Department and the United Nations.

First steamship to cross the Atlantic was the British ship, Rising Sun, in 1818.
